The election filed March 30, 2005 has been entered and made of record as paper no. 0305.

Applicant's election without traverse of claims 1-15 in the reply filed on March 30, 2005 is acknowledged.

The specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-5, and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Krivokapic et al.

Krivokapic discloses an field effect transistor comprising a gate structure (42) and a discontinuous film (30) of material within layer of semiconductor material (14) and having a discontinuity aligned with the gate structure.

In re claim 2, Krivokapic also discloses the self-aligned method but no patentable weight is given to the method of making a semiconductor device in claims drawn to structure. A "product by process" claim is directed to the product per se, no matter how actually made, In re Hirao, 190 USPQ 15 at 17(footnote 3). See also In re Brown, 173 USPQ 685; In re Luck, 177 USPQ 523; In re Fessmann, 180 USPQ 324; In re Avery, 186 USPQ 161; In re Wertheim, 191 USPQ 90 (209 USPQ 554 does not deal with this issue); In re Marosi et al, 218 USPQ 289; and particularly In re Thorpe, 227 USPQ 964, all of which make it clear that it is the patentability of the final product per se which must be determined in a "product by process" claim, and not the patentability of the process, and that an old or obvious product produced by a new method is not patentable as a product, whether claimed in "product by process" claims or not. Note that applicant has the burden of proof in such cases, as the above caselaw makes clear.

In re claims 3 and 4, the insulator film (30) in Krivokapic can inherently be a stressed film.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 10 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Krivokapic et al in view of Bae.

Krivokapic discloses all the subject matter discussed above. However, Krivokapic does not disclose about void formed in the semiconductor material. Bae disclose a field effect transistor having void (35) formed in the semiconductor material to suppress floating body effects. Note that void is also formed in porous silicon 23b in Bae. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to form void in the semiconductor material in Krivokapic in order to suppress floating body effects as taught by Bae.

Claim 13 is object to because "said stepped or staircase portion" has no antecedent basis.

Claims 6-9, 12, and 14 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The other references are cited to show other structures pertinent to Applicants' disclosure.

Paper copies of cited U.S. patents and U.S. patent application publications will cease to be mailed to applicants with Office actions as of June 2004. Paper copies of foreign patents and non-patent literature will continue to be included with office actions. These cited U.S. patents and patent application publications are available for download via the Office's PAIR. As an alternate source, all U.S. patents and patent application publications are available on the USPTO web site (www.uspto.gov), from the Office of Public Records and from commercial sources. Applicants are referred to the Electronic Business Center (EBC) at <http://www.uspto.gov/ebc/index.html> or 1-866-217-9197 for information on this policy.
